

This group is comprised of brain injury survivors, their families and friends, healthcare professionals, physicians, providers of brain injury rehabilitation, and other advocates.

The Brain Injury Association of Rhode Island Resource Center helps to improve access to information on brain injury, and to enhance the effectiveness of agencies and service providers who work with survivors. We work to expand services in Rhode Island for the care and rehabilitation of individuals who have sustained brain injuries by increasing the public's awareness of brain injury and its consequences, developing support systems and by providing educational outreach to organizations, agencies, and community groups.
